omen-and children too-will settle down for an evening of sheer enjoyment with Sabatini's powerful new novel CAPTAIN BLOOD. Each and every one will find it a story of rare interest, clean, vivid, brimming with vitality and shining adventure; a romance even more absorbing than Sabatini's last great success, "Scaramouche."

A book, if it is the right book, is still the least expensive form of entertainment. And the purchase of CAPTAIN BLOOD is a real economy because it is a book that every member of the family will read with real delight.

The announcement was made by Archbishops Hanna of San Francisco and Curley of Baltimore at the close of to-day's session of the annual meeting of the hierarchy. Members of the hierarchy, composed in the meeting of Cardinal O'Connell of Boston, nearly a dozen archbishops and more than fifty bishops, previously considered reports on the activities of each department of the council during the year. Those reports, especially along social service and educational lines, were said to have shown remarkable accomplishments.

Its Activities Have Resulted in Greatest Good.

In Greatest Good.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—The National Catholic Welfare Council was authorized te-day by the hierarchy of the Roman Catholic Church of America "to Roman Catholic Church of America" "to "Manelaughter," Cecil B. De Mille's pro-which have resulted in the greatest good during the past year." The authorization, churchmen said, would clear up neertainty in some quarters as to the cope of the Weifare Council.

The announcement was made by the control of the c

Youngstown after a series of meetings of regional managers and system chairmen of the shop crafts. R. S. Parsons, vice-president in charge of operations, announced that shopmen will return to work at once "on conditions satisfactory" to both parties." Mutual concessions on contract labor and wages, it was learned, paved the way. No official digest of terms was given out, but it was reliably ascertained that the returning strikers waived seniority.

"Nobody won the strike," said one of the active figures in the negotiations, who added that the harmony now prevailing was largely due to the fact that the controversy was settled "in the family."

The Pennsylvania embargo has two phases. Connections east and west of Altoona, Pa., and Renovo, Pa., will be limited indefinitely to priority freight such as coal, food, perishables, &c. From October 2 for ten days a similar embargo will apply in the central, southwestern and northwestern regions of the system and in the eastern region on freight deatined to the other school of canon Law.

BENNY LEONARD TO PLAY IN 'HITCHY KOO OF 1922'

Shuberts Engage Lightweight Champion at Big Salary. Benny Leonard, lightweight boxing

hampion, signed a contract yesterday with Lee and J. J. Shubert to have his knuckles featured prominently with Raymond Hitchcock in "Hitchy Koo of 1222." The stage manager of that production, which comes here in three weeks, is already wondering how far he can go in addressing Benny. The salary which he will be paid is said to be one of the largest ever paid out in the name of art.

The champion, who is having his first opportunity to register the theatrical knockout, is having several scenes written to allow him a chance to show he is something else besides a boxer. With a bid made by the Shuberts to Battling Sirt for vaudeville, this leaves only Jack Dempsey unaccounted for by them. knuckles featured prominently with
